

CRITICAL RISKS

What should you pay attention to that you're not? Where does risk exist in our organization and beyond it. How can we effectively identify and address risk?

Risk affects all areas of business. From the personal to the organizational. The challenge for many organizations to not just to identify them, but to make them real and present so to motivate teams to understand and prepare for contingencies.

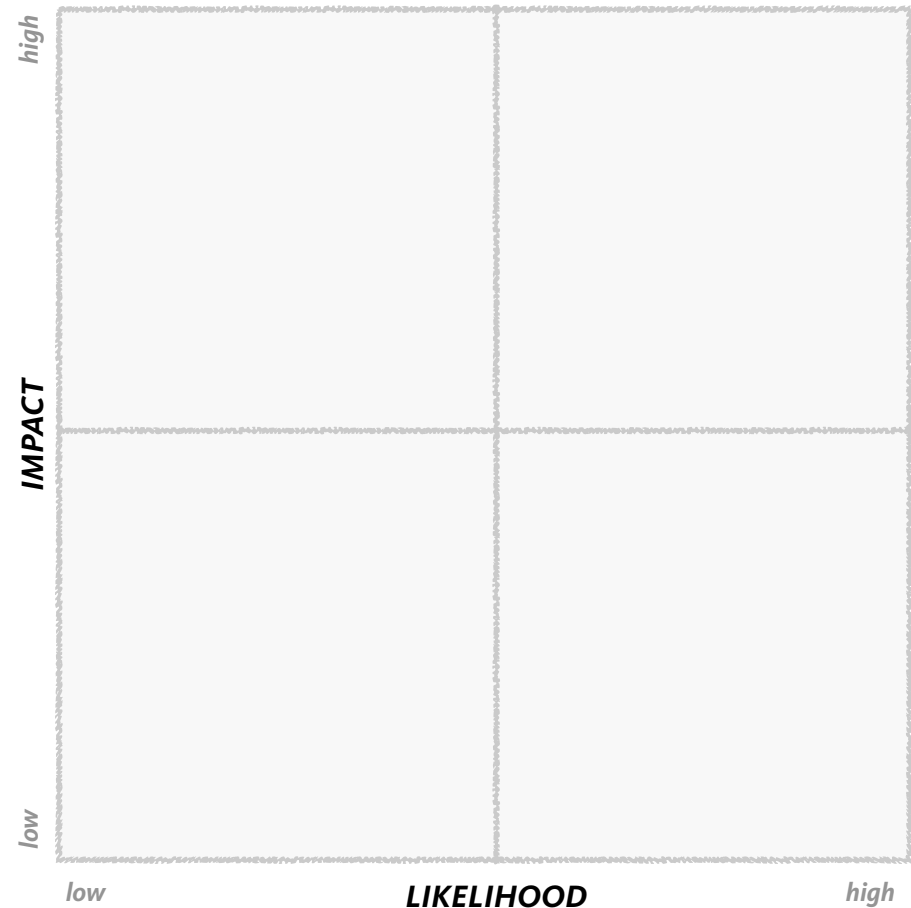

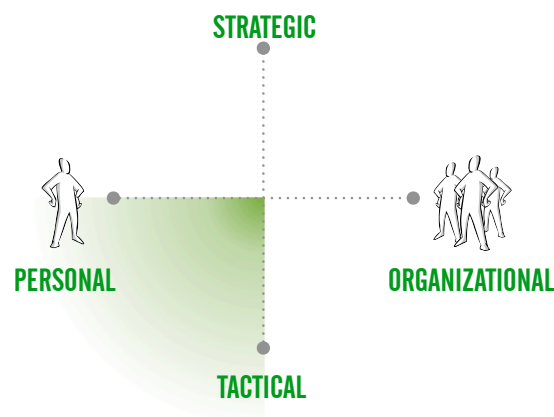

Chart the range of risks in an AEC organization - from the big picture industry wide to the organizational and to a personal. Dramatize what what solutions to identify and mitigate these risks to your new Chief Risk Officer.